Houston Choral Showcase is an adult show choir performing choral arrangements in a variety of popular genres and styles, including pop, jazz, swing, show tunes, patriotic pieces, and holiday songs. Choreographed dance moves and staging are an integral part of performances, along with vibrant costumes and props. In addition to performing at ticketed shows and public events, Houston Choral Showcase is also available to entertain at private events. Each season the group presents a new selection of songs that is varied in style and pace. You may encounter moving ballads, spirited dance music, new songs, and old songs done new ways, with plenty to get your toes tapping and put a smile on your face.

Houston Choral Showcase has performed at a variety of events and venues. One of their greatest assets is flexibility to adapt to different spaces and environments, and with their professional grade sound equipment they can produce a quality sound in different venues, indoors or outdoors.

Houston Choral Showcase is the longest performing mixed community choral group in the Houston area, having been singing and dancing in Southeast Texas for more than 75 years. The group regularly appears at major public events, as well as at corporate gatherings, country clubs, holiday parties and other private engagements year-round. Audiences have included the Queen of England, a former US President, and many thousands of others. Director Diane Benson has been leading the group for over 20 years.
